FEEDING CATTLE IN FLORIDA

What cattle eat is very important to us. We keep a cattle nutritionist on call to formulate rations that best meet the needs of our diverse groups of cattle from the precondition side to the feed yard, we aim to give the animals the nutrition to reach their full potential.

Working with local farmers and commodity producers we strive to formulate efficient and cost-effective rations.

We have a dedicated crew of feeders that are responsible for mixing their own rations and feeding their assigned pens daily. Using the same equipment (feed trucks and wagons) and drivers allows a certain consistency and familiarity to the employee and cattle. The main goal is to reduce stress on the animals, keeping them calmer and on a predictable routine.
